DECATUR, ILLINOIS:
Tuesday Evening, Jan. 11.

THE COLDEST WINTERS ON RECORD IN THE UNITED STATES within the past hundred years, were those of 1780, 1838 and 1856. In the first named year the Bay of New York, Delaware river and Long Island Sound were so completely ice-bound as to be crossed with horses and sleighs. The coldest year was that of 1816, in which there was ice in every month of the year.

THE more cautious of the Democratic journals are frank enough to admit that their party has by no means a sure prospect of victory next year. Thus the Louisville Courier-Journal says: "To sum up the situation in a few words, it is reverse from the fair outlook of this day twelve months ago, and can only be improved by the Democrats themselves, who need to go back to their principles and traditions, putting a hard money, home rule, and free trade platform. Nothing less will give us the ghost of a chance to beat the Republicans, because nothing else is consonant either with our duty or with the facts of contemporary history."

ONE thing in Governor Tilden's message touches an evil that has long been growing in this country, and it should now receive a check. Speaking of the building of magnificent edifices for the insane, for prisoners and paupers, he says: "Few private individuals can afford to pay the rent paid by the State for its imbeciles." This is an unpleasant truth that has before been avoided. Palaces are built as asylums, and $100,000 expended where $10,000 would have answered every purpose. One explanation of the great amounts of city indebtedness is found in this and similar practices, and Governor Tilden no doubt joins hands with Gov. Hartman in reprobation of such expenditures.

A BILL has been introduced in the California Legislature providing for the punishment of the abominable and frequent practice of wife-beating by flogging. Although this form of penalty has been severely criticised and does not command the favor of humanitarians, there are some reasons in favor of it as a proper mode of punishment for this class of crimes. The practice is becoming very frequent, and is often characterized by the grossest brutality, this class of brutes not confining their cruelty to simple beating, but adding tortures of the most cruel and revolting character. The law does not now provide an adequate penalty for the offense; on the other hand, its provisions are absurdly inadequate and make the penalty a farce. If flogging is admissible in any case, it is as a punishment for wife-beating, and its vigorous application would be an act of impartial justice and a punishment in kind, in which the victim would have no sympathy. A statute of this kind would have the tendency to restrain these brutes. —Chicago Tribune.

HOLMAN and Randall have made such a tremendous blow against reducing the government expenditures forty millions a year that the people will watch their future antics with considerable interest. The first pass they made was at the consular and diplomatic service, which was to be cut down $300,000 a year. After cutting and paring in all directions, however, the committee announced that $78,000 is the extreme limit of reduction that can be made. All right; let that be made if possible, but it is considerable of a drop from half a million. —Indianapolis Journal.

SEEING A MAN, AND ITS RESULTS.

Not many months ago, in India, a gentleman and wife having taken passage for England, went on board with their baggage. Presently the husband discovered that there was time for him to go ashore and see a man. He went, he saw, he was conquered, and when it occurred to him that it was time to go aboard again, he hailed a boatman and ere long found himself on board a large passenger ship. It was night. A sleepy steward inquired the number of his cabin, which he handed to him, as also that his was the upper berth; so he contrived to clamber into it without disturbing his wife, as he supposed, who slept beneath. But when dawn broke, and the ship was well on her way, a feminine voice was heard shrieking, in a tone of terror, "Steward! steward! there's a man in my cabin!" The wretched man was aroused, and the situation explained to him. He had mistaken the ship. They were under weigh for Australia, and his unhappy wife was steaming away to England under a firm conviction that he had been robbed and murdered by ruffians who frequent the quays. When at length he arrived in Australia, he could not even there relieve his mind, as the cable connecting that country with Europe was not completed; in fact, only been working a little more than a year—so that about four months passed before he heard anything of him.

THE CONTEST CONCLUDED.

And an Illinois College Shares the Glory.

EVANSTON, Ill., Jan. 8, '76.
EDS. REPUBLICAN:—The agony is over. The great inter-collegiate contest in New York before the eminent judges William Cullen Bryant, George William Curtis and James Russell Lowell, is now over with, and the Northwestern University and her students have a sigh because their favorite orator, Mr. Frank Bristol, failed to bear off the palm. Yet we are not without honor, for our essayist Mr. Frank A. Hills, won the prize, or rather half of it, for the best essay. The subject Mr. Hills treated was the "Advantages and Disadvantages of American Suffrage," and he handled it so well that the judges considered his production equal to the best presented. The learned men were unable to decide between his essay and one presented by the representative of Columbia college, of New York City, and so the prize was divided between the two.

The students of the N. W. U. extend their thanks to Hills for his efforts, which have crowned himself as well as his Alma Mater, with the laurel wreath. Though we failed to carry off the other prizes we know our representatives did us an honor, and the venture has proven a benefit to us.

The fact that the Northwestern was the only western college represented in the contest, shows the high estimation in which our University is held in the east. Yours truly,
VICTOR N. HOSFELDER.

SPEECH RESTORED AFTER TWENTY YEARS.

The Providence Journal has an account of the partial recovery of speech by Mr. Frederick E. Luke, of Woonsocket, after twenty years' silence. It says: "He was suddenly deprived of speech, and for the last twenty years he, with his mother and brother, have constituted most of the time the household. He was for a time in failing health, and confined to the house, taking rest only in a sitting posture in a chair, and at times, very much troubled in his respiration. He confined himself to a cold room even in winter, and used ice freely about his head and chest. During those twenty years he has only been able to make himself understood by signs. For a few years past his general health has been improved, and he has been able to go out of doors. A week ago yesterday morning he suddenly felt the removal of a restriction, and realized that the impediment to his speech had been partially overcome, so much that he could speak. He went out of his room and grasped his brother by the hand and greeted him in an audible voice, much to his surprise and joy. The event was the cause of much rejoicing among his friends, mingled possibly with the fear that the change might not be permanent, but we learn that his condition has rather improved for a week, and he is now able to converse without alphabet or sign, though his enunciation is not fully restored. During the early stages of this malady, physicians were consulted, but no one ventured a positive opinion as to what the difficulty was."

HOW A THIEF IS PUNISHED IN SHANGHAI.

Passing along one of the dirty passages ways called streets in the walled city, the other day, we saw a poor fellow chained to the corner of a building. The chain was attached to a heavy iron yoke about his neck. His feet and hands were unmoored, around his neck was also placed a board of 3 1/2 of an inch thick and 2 1/2 feet square, there being a round aperture in the center so as to secure a fitting. The man had been bamboozled till he could scarcely stand. There he had remained exposed to sun and storm for four weeks, the officials relieving him of the board-torture for a few hours at night, in order that he might get some sleep, but replacing it at an early hour in the morning, to be borne through the day. The wretch was crouched down upon his legs, he could not stand upright on account of wounds inflicted by the bamboo; he was reduced almost to a skeleton, but four weeks more of his punishment he must endure, before the expiration of his sentence. The man was a thief, and had not money to require mitigation of punishment by bribery. We also visited the cages attached to the District Court House, and saw other prisoners enduring the same description of punishment. In another apartment men were packed in almost as thick as they could stand, and were obliged to take turns in lying down for rest at night. —J. M. French in the Troy Times.

The report that Theodore Tilton was to settle in Chicago has been widely circulated and believed. When Theodore lectured in this city, and was greeted by an immense audience, he said to himself: "Here is another and a better world, where divorces are obtained without publicity and no charge before a decree. This is an oasis in my life's pilgrimage. Here will I pitch my tent." —Chicago Tribune.

BLAINE AND RANDALL MAKE THINGS LIVELY IN THE HOUSE.

Inauguration of Gen. R. B. Hayes, Governor of Ohio.

SINGER WILL CASE DECISION.

Death of Gordon Bingham Putoka, Ind.

WASHINGTON, January 10.—The President sent to the Senate the nomination of Edward C. Billings, for United States District Judge for Louisiana, vice Darrell; and John W. Hill, Collector of Internal Revenue for the Seventh District of Illinois.

During the debate on Mr. Randall's bill to day, Mr. Randall asked if the Republican side of the House objected to debate.

Mr. Blaine replied that it did not, nor did it desire unreasonable time. He thought an hour or two ought to be allowed to debate on a bill of this kind.

Mr. Randall repeated his question, Mr. Hale answered, "No, sir; but we want both debate and amendment."

Mr. Randall said he proposed they give an hour's consideration to it.

"Aye," consideration without amendment," said Mr. Garfield.

Mr. Blaine said it was utterly impossible to pass the bill under that kind of tactics; that Mr. Randall confessed the weakness of his cause in refusing what Benton called the very essence of legislative power—the amendment.

Mr. Randall (laughingly): "I am glad you see the light; for during many years you were blind to such considerations." Laughter on the Democratic side of the galleries.

Mr. Blaine defied him to find an instance during twelve past years where a bill of this kind was attempted to be put through without discussion and amendment.

Mr. Randall said that happened to this very bill last year.

Mr. Blaine said he objected however.

Mr. Randall: "Never, either in or out of Committee did you object to it."

Mr. Blaine: "Being in the chair and unable to object, I got several other gentlemen to object." (Laughter.)

Mr. Rainey of North Carolina, refused, fearing that his position might be misunderstood, though he didn't favor the bill going through.

Mr. Randall repeated that a bill nearly identical to this went through under the previous question without objection, and Mr. Blaine repeated his denial.

Yells and nays were ordered, when Blaine said this had effect of cutting off all debate.

BOSTON, January 10.—Dr. Samuel G. Howe, founder of the Institute for the Blind in this city, died yesterday, aged 74. Dr. Howe was afflicted with disease of the brain, and had been in very feeble health for several weeks. His decline had become rapid in the last fortnight, and for the last three days no hope was entertained for his recovery.

CINCINNATI, January 10.—Timothy Kirby, an old citizen, died this morning, aged 81, leaving an estate estimated at between $2,000,000 and $3,000,000. Among the few heirs are Don Platt and H. B. Banning.

St. Louis, Jan. 10.—The Globe-Democrat has a special from St. Joseph which says: "Steps are being taken there to file application in court for the appointment of a receiver for the Hannibal and St. Joseph Railroad. It is asserted that the road's earnings last year were quite small, and its running expenses are out of all proper proportion to its receipts, and charges of bad and even corrupt management are freely made."

Boston, Jan. 10.—Tariff for first-class freight from Boston to Chicago, was to-day advanced by all lines from 30 to 75 cents, the Grand Trunk being a party to the new consolidation.

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—The United States cable has been repaired, and communication with Europe re-established.

A special to the Evening Post from White Plains says that Surrogate Coffin to-day decided in the Singer will case, that Mrs. Isabella Eugenie Singer named in the will propounded, is the widow of deceased, and her children legitimate offspring. The claims of Miss Foster, the second wife, are denied.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—The Senate to-day confirmed the appointments of Henry L. Waldo, as Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of New Mexico, and John N. Hill, Collector of Internal Revenue for the Seventh District of Illinois.

PEOPLE AND THINGS.

Great men never forget faces—Napoleon Bonaparte for example, and Boss Tweed.

Cincinnati drew fifty thousand novels to twelve thousand miscellaneous books for her Mercantile Library last year.

Mrs. Woodhall wants women to demand six days of freedom each week from submission to the "will and desires" of their husbands.

A lawyer may cut up a surgeon before a jury, but in his own good time the surgeon will cut up the lawyer, and in this exchange of caustics he is best who cuts last.

The London Times pays $100,000 yearly for the exclusive use of the telegraph wire from India, and yet the rival correspondents have beaten Bully-run Russell out of his boots.

The Pope spends a good deal of money on clothes for an old bachelor—five coats a year, $100 each; silk stockings, $20 a pair; one pair of shoes $20,000. John the Baptist's entire outfit would not have fetched fifty cents at a junk-shop.

The Sultan spends $2,000,000 a year on his palace, and has 5,500 servants. The harem has 1,200 inmates. He has 25 beds, 7 chamberlains, 6 secretaries, 150 eunuchs, 50 medical men, 150 black eunuchs, and 100 bare messengers. No wonder the old man feels sick.

ONE of the editors of the New York Tribune in Washington thus ratiocates about the Presidency:

Among the Republicans there begin to be strong preferences shown, but no prejudices. It is Blaine or Bristow with them. A few months ago Mr. Blaine was almost without a rival in the affections of the Pennsylvania Republicans, but now the Secretary of the Treasury has a powerful following, gained solely by his vigorous warfare upon the Whisky Rings. A member from Washington county, the birthplace of the ex-Speaker, tells me that three-fourths of the Republicans there are now for Bristow. I know, however, that the sentiment is not so one-sided throughout the State, and it is probable that the preference of the member leads him to exaggerate the feeling in his section. Mr. Blaine's hold upon Pennsylvania is too strong to be lost so quickly. A sudden wave of popularity may appear to raise a rival higher in public regard, but the man who control Republican politics, and who will name the delegates to the National Convention, continues to be staunch friends of the ex-Speaker. The vote of the State will, I am confident, be given to him. Besides the two strong candidates, I hear some mention of Blaine B. Washburne and a little of Gov. Hayes. No one else is spoken of. Gen. Grant is a powerful candidate for a third term—among the Democrats. Any Democrat will demonstrate his nomination to a certainty, but Republicans, if they refer to him at all when discussing the Presidential question, say that they suppose he must be convinced by this time that there is no possibility that his party will take him up again.

THE INTER-OCEAN.

THREE EDITIONS: Weekly, Semi-Weekly & Daily

Established less than three years ago as a Representative Republican Paper, pledged to maintain and defend the principles and organization of the National Republican Party, the INTER-OCEAN was early proclaimed to the forefront of Journalism and delivered a success unprecedented in the history of such enterprise. Its general interest it has been assigned position as the LEADING REPUBLICAN PAPER IN THE NORTHWEST.

Not alone on its political character does the INTER-OCEAN rest its claims to popularity, but also at the highest excellence in all departments, and in this respect it is the foremost of Journalism and delivered a success unprecedented in the history of such enterprise. Its general interest it has been assigned position as the LEADING REPUBLICAN PAPER IN THE NORTHWEST.
